It's August, it's hot, and nobody can blame you for not wanting to leave the house—not even for retail therapy. Luckily, there are plenty of great local shops whose Web sites make it possible to buy food, furniture, accessories, even clothes without—if you choose—ever having to put any on. Here we review a few sites that let you shop local while online.

By far one of the prettiest Web designs by a local retailer, this site offers a clean backdrop for Katy Beh's collection of contemporary jewelry by two dozen designers. The site's "wish list" feature lets you log your coveted baubles to buy later—or to nudge that special someone before your birthday.
